Financial economics is the branch of economics characterized by a "concentration on monetary activities", in which "money of one type or another is likely to appear on both sides of a trade". Its concern is thus the interrelation of financial variables, such as prices, interest rates and shares, as opposed to those concerning the real economy. It has two main areas of focus: asset pricing and ...

The dustbin of business history is loaded with the victims of ill conceived mergers and acquisitions. But while there are no magical solutions or silver bullets that ensure success, a process that is co-designed from the beginning will make an M&A appear seamless and fluid, with a high degree of positive, engaged energy throughout the organization.
