A billion has two definitions historically and in the UK we have switched what we mean by the term in living memory. The old UK meaning of a billion was a million million, or one followed by twelve noughts (1,000,000,000,000).

How many millions are in a billion? - Quora

I am developing a dashboard that will have lots of charts, and as the data shown on these charts change, so will the format of the numbers. At the point I am right now, I've run into a problem trying to retrieve the intended format code from the spreadsheet where the data is based on, in the midst of looping through all the series in the chart.
